Helping women in the Acholi Quarter to help themselves

Now is a great time to think about giving back. We ask you to consider partnering with Project Have Hope by requesting a bead kit and selling the beautiful paper jewelry at a local event or among family and friends. Your efforts will help to support PHH's programs: education children, adult literacy, business and housing loans, vocational training, health care, agricultural initiatives, and much more ... Contact us for a bead kit request form.

How you can get involved:

Fall internship positions are still open if you'd like to learn some new skills, get hands on experience working with a grassroots non-profit, and make a huge difference in the lives of many. Contact us.

Be someone's hero, sponsor a child. We

Progress, success and hope - these are the words that describe what we have accomplished together in the Acholi Quarter of Uganda.

Progress

Project Have Hope has launched a t-shirt design competition. Entrants are encouraged to utilize their creativity and artistic talents to help PHH spread its message of hopefulness, strength and unity among the displaced people of Uganda's Acholi Quarter. The winning artist receives a free trip to travel with Director Karen Sparacio and a small group of volunteers in January 2010. For complete guidelines and application, or more info about our next volunteer trip, go to: www.projecthavehope.org

Success

Megan Kelly, a graduate student in social work at Temple University, volunteered this August in the Acholi Quarter. While there, she had the opportunity to improve the vision of many women and children in the community. Through the generous donation of First Sight (www.first-sight.org) of kits to test and fit people with corrective lens, "Dr." Megan undertook the challenge to test more than a hundred women and children and fit them with new glasses. Her efforts combined with the amazing contribution of First Sight's eye-glass kits have Currently have 90 kids in school.

Hope

Sadly, Acayo Santina, a member of Project Have Hope, died of tuberculosis in April. In an effort to assist her grieving children, who have not only lost their mother, but the sole bread winner for the family, Project Have Hope provided her eldest son, Oryemo Denis, 20, money to build a home on the small piece of land Santina owned in the stone quarry. The home is nearly complete and now Denis will more easily be able to care for his two younger siblings.

Looking for a life-changing experience? Do you want to see first hand how you can make a direct difference in someone's life? Then join PHH's next volunteer trip in January. Volunteers will work side-by-side with the Acholi community, creating lasting friendships and cultural understanding as they work together. Volunteers will also visit Murchison Falls for a 3-day safari and visit Mabira Forest Reserve. Contact us to reserve a space. If you'd like to join us, email us for more details.

We could not have done all of this without all of you. Thank you and please consider forwarding this email to your friends. Help us expand our reach, donate today.

Sincerely,
